As the “City Hall” of the Jewish community, Jewish Federation of Palm Beach County is focused on strengthening our community today, tomorrow and forever. We step forward for the needs that we face this year, while building a community that is ready for next year, five years from now and generations to come.

Community leaders and philanthropists like you have the experience, influence and resources to create transformational change locally in Israel and around the world. Your annual support of Federation fuels our work to meet the challenges and opportunities that we face – today and tomorrow. As we look into the future, the foresight of our endowment donors ensures that we are here for our community in the long term and enables us to stay ahead of the curve.

Our commitment to the people of the Palm Beaches, Israel and Jewish communities around the world is unwavering. As Jewish people, we look after and stand up for one another – wherever people need our help. With a reputation for successful problem-solving, bold leadership and generous philanthropy, Jewish Palm Beach is consistently called upon in times of calm and crisis to be there for people everywhere.

You are the engine behind the next chapter of our Jewish community locally and globally, focused on four impact areas that address opportunities and challenges that we face in the Palm Beaches and around the world. Together we are: (1) caring for people in need, (2) inspiring children and teens with powerful Jewish experiences, (3) protecting and standing up for our Jewish community and (4) connecting people with Jewish life.

Because of you, we will achieve a safe, meaningful and caring Jewish experience in the Palm Beaches and around the world. Thank you for your continued commitment.

Our local community faces surging population, rising costs, shifting demographics and a significant number of seniors who require support to access meals, healthcare and emotional support. Our human service partners were primarily built to support an aging, smaller population – rather than today’s large-scale community that contains thousands of families with children.

Globally, Jewish communities are confronting enormous challenges: disadvantaged children and families, vulnerable seniors and Holocaust survivors, new immigrants to Israel, displaced Ukrainian refugees, and at-risk Jews living in places of conflict or distress around the world.

People across the Palm Beaches and the global community face overwhelming challenges related to affording basic needs, putting food on the table and caring for their mental health.

Florida is the least affordable state in the U.S. based on home and rent prices versus income.

34,000 local people living in Jewish households are struggling with a household income below $50k.

16,000 Jewish adults aged 18-49 say they have experienced emotional difficulties due to the pandemic.

Requests for food have nearly tripled in the past year from young families to homebound seniors, making it a challenge to stock the shelves of our community’s kosher food pantries.

Crisis in Ukraine is putting thousands of Jewish people in the line of fire, with many fleeing to other countries and in dire need of human services.
Our Jewish community is continuing to grow in Palm Beach County, and so many are finding it difficult to get by. Judy and I believe in taking care of people who are not able to take care of themselves. Through our contributions to Federation, we are providing families with the support they need to live better lives.

– Paul Konigsberg

In Jewish Palm Beach, hundreds of Holocaust survivors receive significant support from our local community partners. Abe is one of them: a 95-year-old widower who lives alone in West Palm Beach. He is legally blind and limited in his mobility, self-care and homemaking abilities.

Abe is from Ukraine, and his parents and siblings were murdered by the Nazis in the 1941 Babi Yar massacre. Today, Abe has no living family members to help him, and he supports himself on a meager budget from food stamps and Social Security.

Through your support, Abe benefits from care he receives from Federation partners that includes hearing aids, eyeglasses, meal deliveries, nursing and volunteer visits to help him cope with isolation and loneliness.

Inspire children and teens with powerful Jewish experiences and learning.

Offering today’s kids access to Jewish experiences and learning opportunities – such as religious school, Israel travel, summer camp, preschool and day school – is vital to connecting them with their Jewishness and strengthening our Jewish future.

12,500 local children are being raised by multi-faith parents, many of whom have not yet decided how they will raise their children.

17,000 local children have not yet participated in Jewish summer camp, a formative experience in a person’s Jewish identity.

30% of families at the Mandel JCC have requested scholarships to enroll their children in preschool.

20,000 local children have not yet participated in a Jewish learning experience.

Young families with children are the fastest-growing segment of the Palm Beaches’ Jewish population. Amid this local growth, many parents feel that enrolling their children in Jewish education and experiences is out of reach as they struggle to afford basic living expenses. We believe that innovative approaches connect younger generations with the beauty of Jewish learning, Israel and global peoplehood.
As the daughter of Holocaust survivors, I care deeply about strengthening Jewish identity in children and teens. With my Lion of Judah Endowment, I am continuing my family’s legacy so future generations have opportunities to build their unique connection with Jewish heritage, values and traditions.

When Lauren and Jason moved here from Boston with their two children, they wanted to be involved in their Jewish community but didn’t know where to start. They hoped their kids would come to appreciate their Jewish heritage and the importance of giving back to their community. Unfortunately, Lauren and Jason’s jobs didn’t offer much wiggle room for the added expense of Jewish community experiences.

Federation reached out to Lauren and Jason through our newcomers program with a phone call, a welcome gift, and introductions to local schools and camps. Federation also subscribed Lauren and Jason’s kids to PJ Library®, which delivers free Jewish books to their door every month.

Their children received scholarships to enroll in Jewish preschool and summer camp at the Mandel JCC. After the summer ended, the family participated in our Hanukkah celebration at The Square and Jewish Volunteer Center’s Rosh Hashanah meal-packing project benefiting local seniors.

Driven by your generosity, we are connecting more children and teens with innovative, relevant and accessible Jewish experiences.

NEW in 2023: Sundays Together

As we look to invite more people to take part in Jewish life, Federation is partnering with local synagogues and educators to introduce our new Sundays Together program. Sundays Together invites families to participate in relevant, free Jewish-themed activities and celebrations at parks, museums and other public spaces throughout the community.

More than $250,000 in supplemental scholarships is being provided to local families who have demonstrated financial need so their children can attend Mandel JCC youth programs. 1

Meanwhile, anti-Israel and antisemitic comments are widespread on social media. These trends are sadly prevalent in South Florida and communities across the globe.

Hate crimes against Jews and others are rising at alarming rates.

2 in 3 religious hate crimes are against Jewish people, who make up just 2% of the U.S. population.12

Nearly 500 antisemitic acts of harassment, vandalism and assault have taken place at Jewish institutions in Florida since 2018.13

Highest number of antisemitic incidents in the U.S. on record since the ADL began tracking antisemitic incidents in 1979.11

61% of Floridians aged 18-39 did not know 6 million Jewish people were killed in the Holocaust.14

NEW in 2023: Making Jewish Life Even Safer

Through the LiveSecure initiative, new and increased gifts to Federation will be matched by national philanthropists to reinforce increased physical security presence at JCCs, synagogues, Jewish schools, summer camps and other centers of Jewish life.15

Learnings from this mission are strengthening efforts to create a safe Jewish experience in the Palm Beaches.

As Director of Community Security, Federation’s Ron Vosatka leads security efforts to enhance the safety of Jewish Palm Beach – including partnerships with local law enforcement.

Earlier this year, Ron joined several state, local and county law enforcement professionals on a security mission to Israel. They took part in high-level training focused on global terrorism, antisemitism and other security threats faced by Jewish communities locally and around the world.

Federation has empowered me to advocate against and combat antisemitism and bigotry, create a more inclusive community, and enhance the relationships between the Jewish community and other faiths.

The Palm Beaches are home to one of the largest, fastest-growing Jewish communities in North America. Jewish Palm Beach is getting younger and more geographically dispersed. Growing diversity calls for Jewish experiences to be welcoming to people of all abilities, financial situations, interests and life stages.

Booming population growth and diversity in Jewish Palm Beach require a wide range of relevant, accessible Jewish experiences.

Palm Beach County is #1 county in Florida for people relocating from other states.

200,000 people in Jewish households expected to live here by 2026, one of the largest Jewish populations in the United States.

23,000 Jewish households in the Palm Beaches include at least one person grappling with a health issue, special need or disability.
Thousands of people are looking for ways to connect with their community and each other. I’m proud to be helping Federation create opportunities for people to join together over our shared values and traditions.

Rachel, a 26-year-old who lives in Boynton Beach, wanted to socialize with other young Jewish adults but was hesitant to attend an event by herself. So when Federation’s Shlicha (Israeli emissary) Chani Kalan personally invited her to Federation’s Hanukkah at The Square event, Rachel felt comfortable knowing Chani would make sure she felt welcome and that she belonged.

Rachel enjoyed her experience at the Hanukkah event so much that she was inspired to regularly participate in local activities with other Jewish young adults. She continued to be involved by attending an event in observance of Israel’s Memorial Day, connecting with Israel during an Israeli movie night and making a difference in the community during a volunteer project for Good Deeds Day.

Because of you, we are connecting adults with Jewish life, culture and traditions in Palm Beach, Israel and around the world.

Hundreds of newcomers have been warmly greeted with information and resources that welcome them to our community.

2,000 volunteers joined together for local service projects to improve the lives of people in our community through our Jewish Volunteer Center.

25,000 Jewish college students have access to Hillel programs on Florida campuses.

900 people participated in discussions with the Palm Beaches’ Israeli emissary, part of our Shlichim program that connects local people with Israel’s culture and history.

In February 2022, the people of Ukraine began to face an onslaught of Russian attacks. Home to an estimated 200,000 Jewish people— one of the largest Jewish populations in Europe—Ukraine has benefited from Federation’s global partner organizations having a deeply embedded presence in the region. From the moment of Russia’s invasion, our partners have been protecting people in Ukraine and helping others flee to safe areas, including support to make aliyah (emigrate to Israel). This life-saving work has been possible because of the incredible generosity of Jewish Palm Beach.

When our global Jewish family is in need, we stand up as a community to support them.

Jewish Palm Beach Leaders Welcome Refugees at Ukraine Border

Early in the conflict, three leaders from Jewish Palm Beach were among the first delegation of the North America’s Jewish community to visit the border of Ukraine and Poland. Federation Board Chair Susan Shulman Pertnoy, Board Member Betsy R. Sheerr and President & CEO Michael Hoffman took part in the special mission. They welcomed refugees at the border who were fleeing violence, and they met with staff and volunteers with our global partner organizations who are on the ground saving thousands of lives through our community’s support.
The relief waiting for refugees at the border is the result of your generosity. Heroic staff and volunteers from Federation’s global partners are there with water, food, blankets, toys and comfort. Because of your giving to Federation, these organizations had an expansive and established infrastructure in Ukraine, allowing them to turn on a dime and provide humanitarian aid in almost no time after the invasion began. - Betsy R. Sheerr who participated in a special leadership mission to the border of Ukraine and Poland

Tatiana is a 70-year-old Jewish woman from Kyiv, Ukraine’s capital and largest city. Prior to Russia’s invasion, Tatiana had never left Ukraine – but faced with violence, she had to flee to survive. Tatiana learned that a bus was leaving from her synagogue, transporting people to safety. She was able to board it and after a harrowing journey she arrived in Budapest, where she was greeted by one of Federation’s global partners. “To see a Jewish Agency volunteer, wearing a kippah and greeting me at the station, is a moment I won’t soon forget,” Tatiana said. “He told me I was safe now.” She is now staying at a hotel that The Jewish Agency has converted into a refugee center. Tatiana receives meals, healthcare and emotional counseling.
